

CMS Comment Period on Requirements of Participation Closes Sept. 14

This is it. The comment period for the Requirements of Participation proposed rule will close next Monday, Sept. 14. We still need you to make your voice heard at CMS. Almost 3,000 comments have been submitted so far, but we need more for CMS to understand the impact of this proposal.

At this point in the process, we recommend you file your comments electronically. Please see AHCA's dedicated webpage for:

- Simple step-by-step instructions for writing and filing comments
- Suggested topics for your comments
- Assisted Living-specific suggested topics for comments
- Sample comments
- Link to review comments already filed
- Link to file your comments
- Video of AHCA Board of Governors Chair Len Russ walking you through the process of submitting comments
- Other valuable resources to help you provide feedback

After submitting your comments, don't forget to log your submission here.

Please take the time to make your voice heard. CMS needs to hear from all of you how important this is to our profession. What CMS is proposing simply goes too far, demands the changes too quickly, and costs too much.

Please help us pull together as a sector and have an impact on our future. Thank you for everything you do.
